End of Life Assistance (Scotland) Bill

Rosamund J. Shaughnessy

I am horrified to think that a law which would legalise assisted suicide could be envisaged for this country. I consider that legalised suicide and euthanasia could threaten the lives of the most vulnerable people in our society e.g. the sick, the disabled, depressed people, elderly people with no family to care for them. Moreover, I consider that a doctor's job is to help people to live, not help them to die. I believe that legalised suicide and euthanasia have no place in a civilised society which should value the life of every person and particularly the lives of the most vulnerable. In short, I totally oppose this and sincerely hope that it may never become law.

Rosamund J. Shaughnessy
29 April 2010