E.N.A Bill Committee, 3rd May 10
T3 60,
The Scottish Parliament,
EDINBURGH, EH9 1SP.

Dear Sirs,

I write as a Senior citizen and as one totally opposed to the E.N.A. Bill which would legalise assisted suicide and euthanasia in Scotland.

I am very concerned about the impact this Bill would have on Scottish society and I oppose it for the following reasons:

1. It would mean that some lives would no longer have any meaning, value or worth.
2. As the scope of the Bill is very wide, it would offer assisted suicide to many who are dependent on others, and this could include those with severe threatening disabilities. I think old people would be very much at risk.

5. "To die with dignity and a minimum of distress" is being provided now through good health care and palliative medicine.

6. Evidence from countries where assisted suicide is now legal shows that it is impossible to prevent abuses from occurring.

Lastly, and by no means least, I believe that no human being has the right to end life.

Yours sincerely,

Anonymous
